Dear Sir or Madam,

I am writing to report a serious matter involving consumer fraud, with some of the entities involved located within the jurisdiction of the Los Angeles County District Attorney's Office. This issue is of considerable concern, and I believe it warrants immediate attention due to its potential impact on consumers and the broader community.

Unfortunately, I am currently residing in Beijing, China, which precludes me from presenting this matter to your office in person. However, I am fully prepared to provide all necessary information and cooperate with your investigation to the fullest extent possible. I can also provide a valid form of identification upon request to verify my identity.

Given the international nature of my current residence and the complexities involved in this case, I kindly request the contact information, name and email address, of an investigator who specializes in consumer fraud cases and money laundering. Furthermore, the case involves minors since children, among other people, were targeted by the frauds. I am eager to share detailed information about these frauds, including the entities involved and any evidence that may assist in your investigation.

Thank you very much for your attention to this matter. I look forward to your prompt response and am hopeful that we can work together to address this serious issue.

Sincerely,

Vincent Le Corre
